

Long Hill Summer Rec Camp News Week 1

Thank you everyone for helping to make Week 1 of camp such a success! We had a lot of fun with your campers this week. So...we just wanted to give you some talking points so that when you talk to your campers this weekend, you will know some of the things they did while at camp this week!!!

This week's theme was Dragons and Castles. On Tuesday, we had all of our campers participate in an exercise called, "Stop Dragon My Heart...", and they told us their favorite things about summer. While you might have guessed, there were a couple of "No School"'s, the overwhelming majority told us it was "THE BEACH".

On Wednesday, the campers all worked on decorating the additional castles. Then we took all of the castles outside so the campers could play in them. Of course, what would a castle be without popsicles! So, Wednesday this week was our Popsicle Day!

Today, 4 lucky campers got to take home the castles, and 12 campers won inflatable dragons during our scavenger hunt.

During our gym times, the campers always love to play dodgeball with our "Gator Balls". This week we added a twist...Guard the Castle!

On Thursday, Rizzo's Reptiles visited. This time, Dominic brought Insects and Mammals. Rizzo's is always a camper favorite. Sonic the Hedgehog was one of the coolest visitors!

Today was “Color Day”. Campers and staff were encouraged to wear their favorite color. Shout out to Ryan D. for totally “nailing it” today. Dressed in orange head to toe, even with color-coordinated glasses—he was certainly dressed to impress!

In art, the campers made shaving cream pictures blending lots of colors.

Friday morning, Simon Mandal came and dazzled all of the campers and staff with his amazing illusions! Everyone is still scratching their heads trying to figure out how he did what he did!!!

We celebrated a couple of summer birthdays at camp this week. To Thomas R. and Sienna L. —may all of your wishes come true!

We hope to see you all back at camp another week this summer. For those who could only spend this week with us, we hope you enjoyed your time at camp. Enjoy the rest of summer!
