

Long Hill Summer Rec Camp News Week 4

Dinosaur Week, and we had a roarsome time!

On Monday, we still managed to get our chalk drawings in despite a wet start.

We welcomed back Mark Rust who got all of our campers and counselors up and dancing on Tuesday. AND ...Mark taught them how to play the spoons along with the music. I hope you got to see the Instagram post of the group playing "the spoons" and also singing "You are my sunshine".

We followed up the next day with Crazy Sock Day—another fun Instagram Post.

If you want to follow us, it's Longhillparksrec

On Thursday, we all played Bingo and had a visit from an illusionist.

Throughout the week, the kids did relay races in gym with giant inflatable dinosaur eggs.

We ended the week playing "Capture the Flag" BUT with a twist...you guessed it...we played with giant inflatable dinosaur eggs. It truly was a roarsome week!

Hope you are enjoying your summers as much as we are.
